

THE TASTING
PANEL

95

2014 FOREFATHERS

Lone Tree

CABERNET SAUVIGNON
(ALEXANDER VALLEY)

This dry-farmed red is lushly textured—just what we think of when it comes to this region—a velvet that, with maximum extraction (think ripe and dense), cross the boundaries of texture and flavor. And if a material does possess a flavor, this would be redolent of violets. With a savory palate and perfume of mountain brush (sage and lilacs), the spices are reined in with the tartness of pomegranate and the sweetness of blueberries. There's a Mediterranean Old World sense to this wine. And, like all of Goldschmidt's Cabs, alcohol is no higher than 14.5 percent. AUGUST 2017

THE TASTING
PANEL

95

2014 FOREFATHERS

Lone Tree

CABERNET SAUVIGNON
(ALEXANDER VALLEY)

This dry-farmed red is lushly textured—just what we think of when it comes to this region—a velvet that, with maximum extraction (think ripe and dense), cross the boundaries of texture and flavor. And if a material does possess a flavor, this would be redolent of violets. With a savory palate and perfume of mountain brush (sage and lilacs), the spices are reined in with the tartness of pomegranate and the sweetness of blueberries. There's a Mediterranean Old World sense to this wine. And, like all of Goldschmidt's Cabs, alcohol is no higher than 14.5 percent. AUGUST 2017

THE TASTING
PANEL

95

2014 FOREFATHERS

Lone Tree

CABERNET SAUVIGNON
(ALEXANDER VALLEY)

This dry-farmed red is lushly textured—just what we think of when it comes to this region—a velvet that, with maximum extraction (think ripe and dense), cross the boundaries of texture and flavor. And if a material does possess a flavor, this would be redolent of violets. With a savory palate and perfume of mountain brush (sage and lilacs), the spices are reined in with the tartness of pomegranate and the sweetness of blueberries. There's a Mediterranean Old World sense to this wine. And, like all of Goldschmidt's Cabs, alcohol is no higher than 14.5 percent. AUGUST 2017

THE TASTING
PANEL

95

2014 FOREFATHERS

Lone Tree

CABERNET SAUVIGNON
(ALEXANDER VALLEY)

This dry-farmed red is lushly textured—just what we think of when it comes to this region—a velvet that, with maximum extraction (think ripe and dense), cross the boundaries of texture and flavor. And if a material does possess a flavor, this would be redolent of violets. With a savory palate and perfume of mountain brush (sage and lilacs), the spices are reined in with the tartness of pomegranate and the sweetness of blueberries. There's a Mediterranean Old World sense to this wine. And, like all of Goldschmidt's Cabs, alcohol is no higher than 14.5 percent. AUGUST 2017