This is the fifth vintage of the BOULDER BANK series of wines. Twenty-six year veteran winemaker, Nick Goldschmidt, has created this product to showcase two of New Zealand's preeminent varietals – Pinot Noir and Sauvignon Blanc. Having made wine worldwide for many years, Nick has returned to his New Zealand roots to create BOULDER BANK. This Pinot Noir comes from the Fitzroy Vineyard on Hawkesbury Road in the Omaka area of the Brancott Valley. With an east-facing aspect of undulating glacial soils, the Fitzroy Vineyard receives increased air flow, additional cooling, and gentle morning sun. New Dijon clones were planted in 1999 and are cane-pruned to reduce yield and have separate shoots for maximum cluster exposure. The cane pruning technique produces wines with greater complexity and less alcohol. BOULDER BANK Pinot Noir is true to the varietal and shows the alluring charm of the Marlborough region.

Tasting Note: Brightly engaging with a fruit-led charm and earth & floral notes. Ripe strawberry and cherry flavors are elegantly structured and delightful. Finishes on a spicy note.
